

The Washington Post

The Home You Own

7 paint colors worth trying in your kitchen

Whether you're looking for a bold shade or a muted hue, these colors will get your kitchen cooking

Farrow & Ball De Nimes

Farrow & Ball De Nimes designed by Elizabeth Mollen of Stone Textile Studio. (Dustin Halleck)

Multiple designers also referenced Farrow & Ball's De Nimes, a color named for the denim workwear fabric originally made in Nîmes, France. "We love the blue/green tone that adds a refreshing yet timeless touch," Elizabeth Mollen, a Chicago-based interior designer and CEO of Stone Textile Studio, said in an email. "It is a great balance with bold black accents and marble textures, bringing warmth and personality to the space without overpowering it."